Hawke’s Bay Regional Council

Hi, I'm Jacqueline Taylor and I'm standing for election to the Hawke's Bay Regional Council in the Hastings constituency.

Following my study in ecology at the University of Canterbury, and later my graduate diplomas in teaching and freelance journalism, my wide-ranging career has included working on avocado orchards in Israel, journalism, teaching in low decile primary schools in South Auckland, running education programs at the Auckland Zoo, and supporting the setting up and running of a very successful funds management investment firm. I founded investment magazine, JUNO, to make investing more accessible for all, and this later led to the launch of the JUNO KiwiSaver Scheme of which I co-founded. I currently serve on the national boards for Life Education Trust, a health education provider for children, and SPELD NZ, a provider of support for adults and children with specific learning disabilities.

Since moving to Hawke's Bay in 2016 and setting up Te Mata House Limited, an accommodation & events business, I have wanted to become involved in environmental management on behalf of our community.

For Hawke's Bay to thrive we need to balance sustainability, water quality and economic growth. The Regional Council's crucial role as environmental regulator means that we need a pragmatic council that understands this balance. I have a successful career through being hard-working, sensible, and working collaboratively with others, skills I will bring to the council if you elect me.

“For Hawke's Bay to thrive we need to balance sustainability, water quality and economic growth.”

Like many of you, I have chosen to live in Hawke's Bay because I wanted a great environment for my kids to grow up in, away from the craziness of city life. My son is at Lindisfarne College and my daughter is at Te Mata School, and both are loving the change of pace and the outdoor opportunities Hawke's Bay's wonderful climate offers.

When we first moved to Hawke's Bay, I took my kids swimming in the Tukituki River, something that families have done for generations. I was really shocked to be told there were health warnings against swimming in our rivers, and that we probably should not be swimming in it.

If you elect me, I will be accessible to all in our community, clear in my communications and focused on water security for all and enhancing our environment. I will stand for clear, sensible rules that improve our region. As a businesswoman, with sound financial knowledge, I will also focus on ensuring rates remain reasonable and are spent wisely. As Hawke's Bay continues to grow, I am committed to making sure our region becomes a well-balanced and sustainable environment for present and future generations to enjoy.
