Exhibition Opening: For the Love of the Land

Muse Gallery presents an exhibition of 3 artists for whom relationship to landscape is central to their practices. The history of NZ art has always been deeply preoccupied with depictions of the land. Whether celebrated as a blank canvas for 'progress' or romanticised as sublime & wild, Aotearoa's singular landscape has taken root in our art to become a site for personal & collective imagination. Best known to Hawke's Bay audiences, Josh Lancaster's beautifully lit local landscapes explore the shared connections & personal significances that places hold in our communities & our memories. Much as his pictures attempt to fix his subjects in time, he knows that change is already underway. For Waikato artist, Jennie De Groot, landscape provides a form through which abstract expressionist paintwork & dynamic pictorial depth merge to create dreamlike evocations of place & non-place on the edge of recognisability. The pastoral landscapes in Andrew Barns-Graham's works, meanwhile, subvert the conventions of perspective & representation, inviting viewers into imagined spaces shaped as much by memory & emotion as observation.

Join Josh and the Muse team for opening night drinks.

Exhibition on Screen: Turner & Constable

Celebrating the 250th anniversary of their births, this unmissable new documentary explores Turner & Constable's intertwined lives & legacies alongside the groundbreaking Tate exhibition.

Two of Britain's greatest painters, J.M.W. Turner & John Constable were also the greatest of rivals. Born within a year of each other, both used landscape painting to reflect the changing world around them. Tate Britain brought these two greats together for a groundbreaking exhibition, in London from Nov 2025 to Apr 2026, & Exhibition on Screen has exclusive & privileged access to bring their extraordinary art & remarkable stories to the big screen so that you can enjoy both film & exhibition together.

Discover unexpected sides to both artists with intimate views of sketchbooks & personal items & insights from leading experts.

Turner's blazing sunsets & sublime scenes from his travels & Constable's idealised depictions of beloved places from home whipped the public of the time into a frenzy of enthusiasm. Constable represents the very best of the old school of realism & pastoral nostalgia; Turner, an exciting new way of depicting emotion & dreamlike impressions. Critics compared their starkly different styles to a clash of 'fire & water'. Don't miss this opportunity to see these greats side-by-side, as they so often were in life, on the big screen for the first time.

Exhibition Opening: For the Love of the Land

Muse Gallery presents an exhibition of 3 artists for whom relationship to landscape is central to their practices. The history of NZ art has always been deeply preoccupied with depictions of the land. Whether celebrated as a blank canvas for 'progress' or romanticised as sublime & wild, Aotearoa's singular landscape has taken root in our art to become a site for personal & collective imagination. Best known to Hawke's Bay audiences, Josh Lancaster's beautifully lit local landscapes explore the shared connections & personal significances that places hold in our communities & our memories. Much as his pictures attempt to fix his subjects in time, he knows that change is already underway. For Waikato artist, Jennie De Groot, landscape provides a form through which abstract expressionist paintwork & dynamic pictorial depth merge to create dreamlike evocations of place & non-place on the edge of recognisability. The pastoral landscapes in Andrew Barns-Graham's works, meanwhile, subvert the conventions of perspective & representation, inviting viewers into imagined spaces shaped as much by memory & emotion as observation.

Currents Calling Home: Ai Iwane & Mānawatia te Wai (until 11 July)

Currents Calling Home features Japanese artist Ai Iwane & Aotearoa-based research collective Mānawatia te Wai. Drawing together creative & community practices around the restoration of waterways in different parts of the world, the exhibition features artworks that document the enduring cycles of two creatures – native North American salmon & tuna (Aotearoa longfin eel). The journeys of both species invite us to reflect on what it means to return to relation, responsibility, & the web of more-than-human life to which we belong.

Hastings Art Gallery, Civic Square, Hastings
10.00am - 4.00pm Tues – Sat

Kate White: The Crow Road (until 18 June)

Miniature oil paintings by Kate White. In this collection, Kate White uses the road between Waipukurau & Ocean Beach as the time thread between the past – when Rooks were reviled by many, loved by a few – & a future where the artist hopes a public & farming community (educated in regenerative farming practicality & the pointlessness of pesticide-caused cancer) will acknowledge & welcome this terribly misunderstood bird. The Crow Road begins where the artist was born & ends at one of her favourite lookouts, stopping at places along the way which will be recognized by those who know this land, reinhabited by the Rook people of NZ. If you think you know about Rooks or if you've never heard of them, visit this show – prepare to be surprised.
